Prosperity? Cliff-Hangers Just Before Fall

Figures issued by the government — ours or any other — are suspect by businessmen, for the obvious reason that they come from politicians who habitually warp the truth in order to fool the people into letting them hold office for a little longer. But the figures issued by business firms usually are taken at face value because the compilers are themselves business people and they know that what they state for the truth will be examined by other businessmen who are just as sharp in mathematics as themselves.

Now consider the case of the Aluminum Company of America. Because this writer owns a few shares there, came to his desk this week-end Alcoa's consolidated income report for the three months ending March 31. A politician would wave it in front of his ignorant public and proclaim, "This is prosperity! Alcoa is making a pot of money!" But as a businessman I draw a different conclusion. Its March 31st statement tells me Alcoa — and the rest of us — are in trouble. Cliff-hangers on the eve of falling into the abyss.

The figures are menacing enough to any observer with experience and skill to see the trees for the forest.

On the surface Alcoa looks prosperous. For the first quarter of 1965 it had gross income of $274,126,765, expense of $247,159,178 — and net profit of $16,673,389.

And for the first quarter this year Alcoa took in $322,510,714, had expenses of $280,080,863 — and a net profit of $24,539,260.

That's all to the good, you think — $16,673,389 profit for the quarter a year ago — and $24,539,260 for the quarter this year.

But wait a minute. Recheck those figures. They disclose a great big rat-hole.

Between those two quarters, Alcoa's expense climbed from $247,159,178 to $280,080,863.

If sales hadn't climbed prodigiously in the first quarter this year Alcoa would be operating in the red!

The figures are there in print for you, where I have put them above. Last year's quarterly sales were $274,126,765, and this quarter's expense is $280,080,863 — a potential loss on the quarter of $5,954,098 . . . or at the rate of $23,816,392 for a full year!

So if sales ever slip Alcoa is in the red.

What a rat race! To stay out of a depression you always have to show a big increase in sales to meet the inexorable rise in expense.

And sooner or later the day comes when you can't do it — and then people are fired by the thousands, suddenly and without recourse . . . and the country spirals downward into the depths of another depression.

You think this is merely editorial speculation? I am a writer of history, from both observation and experience. Star Publishing Co. was founded in 1929, and I brought it through the 1929-33 depression. Inflated expense and falling sales were precisely what plunged America into depression in 1929.

Do our political leaders know the score? Do political leaders ever know the score?

Right now they are busy planning an increase in the minimum wage, pushing up an already-intolerable level of business operating expense, and sending consumer prices to a new high.

The people will find out the truth only when costs become so high that jobs become non-existent — then, when it's too late, citizens will do some heavy thinking . . . but it's going to cost them . . . through the nose.

Red China Leadership Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deepening mystery over the fate of Mao Tse-tung spurred speculation among U.S. officials today about a possible power shift in Red China with worldwide repercussions.

The belief that the Chinese Communist leadership may be approaching a transition period is one of several reasons for recent overtures by the Johnson administration to reduce tensions and lower barriers between Red China and the United States.

Climax of 17-Inch Rain Hits Hope Saturday

— Hope Star Photos
TOP — A 3.41-inch rain which climaxed 17 inches in nine consecutive days trapped this big transport on the south side of the Missouri Pacific underpass at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, forcing city police to close this section of Hervey St. and detour northbound traffic on State Highway 4 over grade-crossings. The editor shot all these pictures between 4:30 and 5 — in a deluge.

Move on to Curb Sukarno Further

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The long dormant Indonesian Parliament met today amid speculation that it would lay the groundwork for moves to curb President Sukarno's powers further.

During a meeting of less than one hour, the group formed two committees to study political and economic questions and submit recommendations to Indonesia's other legislative body, the Provisional People's Consultative Congress. It is to meet in 10 days.

The talk in Parliament today had an unusual flavor of independence. One speaker said they should show Sukarno that "we are not below the president but beside him." Another proposed an elected chairman to replace the one appointed by Sukarno.

Red Missile Site Destroyed by Navy Planes

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. Navy fighter-bombers demolished another antiaircraft missile site near the North Vietnamese city of Vinh, but in the South the lull in the ground war extended into a third week, the U.S. command reported today.

American planes flew more than 300 sorties against suspected Communist targets in South Viet Nam. For the second day in a row B52s from Guam pounded Viet Cong troop areas near the Cambodian border.

Although weather curtailed air missions over the Communist North, A4 Skyhawks and F8 Crusaders from the carrier Hancock saturated the missile site 34 miles northeast of Vinh, on the North Vietnamese coast, with Bullpup air-to-surface missiles and 500- and 600-pound bombs. A spokesman said they destroyed everything within a 100-foot-square area, including two Soviet-built missile launchers.

U.S. spokesmen reported the loss of two more planes over North Viet Nam, raising the total shot down there to 227, but the pilots of both were rescued by helicopters. Four U.S. planes were lost over the North Friday.

Commenting on the lull in the ground war, the spokesman declared: "We have hurt these people a great deal in recent months. We're sure they are still pouring people in here from North Viet Nam at the rate of 5,500 a month. I don't believe they have supplies for support."

The infiltration figure, however, represents an increase of 1,000 men a month over Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's estimate to the Senate two months ago.

Rotary Told About Dairy Farming

Johnnie Holmes of Little Rock Executive Director of the American Dairy Association, spoke to the Hope Rotary Club on "Agriculture and Dairy Farmers" at the regular club meeting last Friday at the Town and Country. Stressing the necessity of having good nutrition for good health, Mr. Holmes reminded the Rotarians that milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

The speaker pointed out interesting aspects of the dairy industry including improved methods of operation, financial growth, and the many allied industries connected with it. George Walden of Midwest Dairy arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

Visiting Rotarians from Nashville were Byron Thompson and Deward Sharp. John Blundell of Texarkana was also a guest.

State Court Upholds Rape Conviction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed the life sentence given Willie Herman Smith in the July 24, 1965, rape of a white grandmother.

The Supreme Court rejected arguments that the evidence against Smith, a negro, was insufficient.

Smith, 19, was identified in a police lineup by the woman and by Detective Sgt. J. C. Boles, who set a trap for the attacker in the woman's home three nights after the attack.

The victim said she recognized Smith's voice. Boles said he saw the man who broke into the apartment in Little Rock and that it was Smith.

Boles said the man who broke in escaped because he did not shoot to kill and consequently missed the fleeing man.

The Supreme Court affirmed a Baxter Circuit Court ruling that Ray Byrd cannot at one time hold seats on the Cotter School Board, the Baxter County Board of Education and the Baxter County Election Commission.

The ruling left Byrd with only a seat on the election commission. He became a member of the Cotter School Board in 1945 and of the Baxter County Board in 1958. He became an election commissioner in 1960.

Mr. Theis replaced Bud McRoy who was promoted to a Little Rock Kroger Store.

Over 50 Rural Bridges Out Due to Rain

During the past eight days, areas of Hempstead County has received over 20 inches of rainfall. This record rainfall has not been paralleled in many years. There is no relief in sight, and the forecast continues to predict rain. The official total at the Experiment Station showed 18.57 for April with 16.75 inches since April 24.

This deluge has played havoc with the roads throughout Hempstead County. County Judge Orie Byers reports that he has been over the entire county and so far has found over 50 bridges and culverts completely washed out. In many areas, the gravel is gone from the roadbed and the roads have been made hazardous and impassable.

"I estimate that approximately $70,000 worth of damage has been done to our road system," said Judge Byers. "In order to meet this emergency, all units of the county road system and employees are working overtime and additional workers are being hired. In this meantime, I ask the indulgence of our citizens while these emergencies are being overcome."

Judge Byers pointed out that his situation wasn't any different from those of surrounding counties. These record breaking rains have created hazardous conditions in a wide spread area in Southwest Arkansas.

17 Inches of Rain in Hope in 9 Days

Up to 7 a.m. today it had rained for nine consecutive days in Hope — the total being 17 inches beginning with Saturday, April 23, according to the official measurement of the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station.

The climax came Saturday, April 30, with 3.41 inches of rain during the daylight hours, much of it falling between 4 and 5 p.m., flooding streets and stalling automobiles all over town. Major highways both east and west were closed briefly by state police.

Here is the official record for the nine days, the daily report being for the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. of the date listed:

Sunday, April 24 — 6.73 inches
Monday, April 25 — .30
Tuesday, April 26 — 4.25

Bride of a Month Dies in Accident

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four persons died in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways during the weekend — among them a bride of one month.

Mrs. Laverne Dixon Cisco, 18, of Harrison was killed Sunday when the car she was riding in skidded off U-S 62-65 four miles north of Harrison and crashed down a 30-foot embankment during a rain.

Her husband of four weeks, Curtis, 20, was hospitalized at Harrison.

The others killed during the period of the Associated Press weekend count of traffic fatalities, from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday, were:

—William Vickery, 58, of Florio, fatally injured when his car collided with an auto driven by Irma Cothran, 43, of Drasco, on Arkansas 25 1.7 miles north of Drasco in Cleburne County.

—T. D. Young of Rison, who drowned when his car left the road near Rison and plunged into the Saline River Saturday.

—Gene Rhine, 26, of Lowell, fatally injured when his car collided with a tractor-trailer rig on U.S. 71 just north of the Benton city limits Friday night.

State Police said Rhine's car struck the right side of the trailer rig as it emerged from a rural road onto the highway, then went down an embankment and overturned.

State's Oldest Sportsman
Lists His Age At 105
GURDON — Chief Elias Butler of near Gurdon undoubtedly must be the oldest active fisherman in the state. Just recently he celebrated his 105th birthday, and among the presents was a lifetime hunting and fishing permit — compliments of an anonymous sportsman from Reader.

Since moving to Arkansas in 1900, Butler said he has hunted and fished near his home. He hasn't hunted much since 1963, but still is an active fisherman on the streams in the area.

New Regulations

LITTLE ROCK — Two new regulations have been added to the state laws by the Commission. The AG & F has ruled that "it shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take frogs in any manner from any hatchery or nursery pond owned or operated by the Commission." The order specifically covers the fish hatcheries at Lonoke, Centeron, and Lakes Hamilton Hatchery near Hot Springs, as well as a nursery ponds at Lakes Bull Sholas and Norfolk, and is not limited to just these sites. The regulations also prohibit hunting, shooting or carrying of firearms or other killing devices on these areas. The penalty for violation is $25 to $250.

Beginning July 1, according to the other new regulation, "it shall be unlawful for any person to take or attempt to take mus-shell shells without first procuring a fishing license, which will be required in addition to the shell takers license." Violation of the regulation can result in a fine of $25.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Date With Dad
Dear Helen: So many times youngsters are super saturated with "Mama," but don't really get to know their Dads. For this reason, we've established a regular "Date With Dad" program at our house. Every week one of our children takes his turn for an all-alone trip with my husband. It can be a ride down town, or a visit to the beach, maybe a tour of his office, a boat ride — anything, just so the child has a chance to talk and be friends with his father. Perhaps they don't even talk up a storm, but they're close. We've found the whole house runs smoother since we started our "Date With Dad."

Those quiet moments when each is an individual to the other make very strong ties. In the beginning the outings (with perhaps a soda and hamburger along the line) were for all the children, but we found one at a time is best. When all go, they compete for attention, or else they spend the time scuffling in the back seat — They aren't really with Dad, they're with each other. — Pat

Dear Pat: Your "Date With Dad" should be standard procedure in all families. Thanks for a lovely idea. — H.
P. S. Come to think of it, a weekly "Date With mate" — minus off-spring — puts the spring back in marriage. And it's important too, for children to spend alone-time with their mothers. Nothing makes a young person feel more important than to have a parent all to himself on a special occasion. — H.

The Toadying Kind
Dear Helen: Do "Yes men" climb faster? The rest of us at the office don't make waves, but at least we have courage of our convictions, and state 'em. This one guy won't open his mouth till he finds out what the boss thinks, and then he's a vocal carbon copy. I happen to know how he stood on things a year ago, in another job. It isn't like now, and if he switches bosses it will be something else again. What would you say about a man like that? — Deke

Dear Deke: He sounds like an opportunist who has the courage of his connections. Stick with your convictions, — H.

Dear Helen: I am miserable. Last night my husband (of 10 months) did not come home for supper. It happened a week ago too, and a few other times in the past months, but not often. He said he is not wearing a ball and chain and if friends ask him to stop for a drink after work, he will. He said he will not lose his manhood by telling them "No."

My first husband was an alcoholic. I am deathly afraid it will happen again. My daughter gets so nervous when Bill doesn't come home that she goes all to pieces. She knows what it's like. So do I.

My husband says we are making a big thing of this. I don't want to lose him to the bottle. Whatever can I do? — Bill's Wife

Dear Wife: You should know that visible hand-wringing can turn a man stubborn. And you'd better learn soon: if you judge present mate by past failure you are bucking for Failure No. 2.

When he occasionally comes home late, greet him as if you hadn't noticed, with a big smile and a sincere welcome. This will make a basic nice guy shape up faster than tears. First he'll wonder what goes on here. Then he'll call himself a heel because you haven't (not out loud of course.) And thus he will learn consideration—because he has a good teacher. You'll see. — H.

Your Helping Hand Department
Dear Helen: Would some of your readers write to Miss Martha D. Havens, 933 South St., Peekskill, New York, c/o Buckley? She was an Army Nurse in World War I and a county health nurse in later years. She can't walk without help and even sitting up in bed is a treat. Cards and letters will do much to dispel her loneliness. She will be 80 in July. — Ned

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star. Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A thrilling, pioneering adventure story in "inner space" — the ocean floor — was told with vivid photography Thursday night by CBS' "The World of Jacques-Yves Cousteau."

It was the last — and by far the most effective — of the network's series of special programs produced by the National Geographic Society.

Material used in the earlier shows was obviously taken for the record or to be used in connection with lectures. This one was shot last September and October by skilled and sensitive cameramen who had television's special needs in mind.

Cousteau, the French underwater explorer, headed the project to build a "steel planet," a globe 20 feet in diameter, containing cramped living quarters and supplies for six young divers who lived and worked almost 400 feet below the Mediterranean for almost a month without surfacing.

In many ways, the stay was reminiscent of space exploits. The men existed in a completely artificial environment and spent most of their time, inside and outside, performing experiments. One involved repair of an oil rig, designed to see whether hard, physical work could be tackled so deep by men with aqualungs.

The commentary, partly by Cousteau and generally by Orson Welles, was precise, informative and almost poetic. Much of the program's startling beauty was in the color and shadings of light and dark.

CBS will drop reruns of "The Trials of O'Brien" in mid-June for some shows about comedy stars and starring the team of Wayne and Schuster. The shows were originally made for Canadian broadcast.

The "O'Brien" show, widely heralded as a quality winner, if a ratings loser, did not rate even one nomination among 226 in the "Emmy" Awards lists.

First British Open golf championship in 1860 had only eight entries.

RULE OF LAW

Extension of Remarks of Hon. Oren Harris of Arkansas In the House of Representatives Tuesday, August 4, 1964

MR. HARRIS. Mr. Speaker, I had the privilege of attending the Texarkana Lions Club, July 13, 1964, and hearing a splendid address of the Honorable Ted Goldman, Judge of the municipal court in the city of Texarkana.

It was one of the finest I have heard and a challenge not only to the community, but to the entire country. I ask unanimous consent that it be included in the Appendix of the Record in order that the Members and others throughout the country may also have the benefit of his very fine speech:

"Rule of Law" — Address Delivered by Judge Ted Goldman, July 13, 1964, at the Lions Club, Texarkana, Ark. and Tex., Attended by the Honorable Oren Harris, Congressman from the Fourth District of Arkansas.

If you ask me to measure and assess the moral fiber of our community, need I remind you that every edition of the press, and from daily news announcements on radio and TV? Need I call your attention to the common alarm over violence and degradation denounced from the church pulpits everywhere?

During these times of tension and unrest, strife and enmity, when the black man is resorting to violent demonstrations for his civil rights, and the white man is fighting back by taking the law into his own hands, they both need to be reminded that the rights, liberty and freedom all of us cherish so dearly stand in serious danger and imminent peril separate and apart from the rule of law and the enforcement of the statutes that govern the affairs and the relations of men.

As I recite the following expression of human rights will you try to name the source from which it comes? "All men are created equally free and independent, and have certain inherent and inalienable rights, amongst which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring, possessing, and protecting property and reputation, and of pursuing their own happiness. *** The equality of all persons before the law is recognized, and shall ever remain inviolate; nor shall any citizen ever be deprived of any right, privilege, or immunity, nor exempted from any burden or duty, on account of race, color or previous condition." This quote is not from the Declaration of Independence, nor is it from the Constitution of the United States, but from the Arkansas constitution of 1874 (art. 2, secs. 2 and 3). It is the liberty and freedom proclaimed in this expression that is imperiled when people question the rule of law by resorting to violence. May God grant us the vision and the courage to do what is right. We glow with pride as we consider the thought that the United States of America, guided and protected by divinity from above, has been chosen in the divine scheme of things to serve a noble purpose in the history of the world. We like to think that that holy purpose is to establish under God the human rights and the human dignity expressed in holy writ and in the minds of good men everywhere around the world. That purpose cannot be achieved by fighting one another and disregarding the rule of law.

When lawyers speak of the rule of law, they mean the system under which the rights of people are governed by established rules, where the freedom and the dignity of the individual are assured, and where disputes are decided by impartial tribunals.

Any development which assures more widespread adherence to the rule of law results in the spread of freedom and greater recognition of individual human dignity.

Important as the Bill of Rights and the concept of individual freedom are, the whole system ultimately rests upon the devotion of the people to a rule of law and their respect for the courts and the officers whose duty it is to enforce that law. Individual rights cannot be maintained if their protection depends only upon the police. There must be a burning devotion in the hearts of people to protect individual rights. A system of law depending for its enforcement only upon the police would require a hundred times more officers than we presently have. The rule of law depends primarily on the fact that the overwhelming majority of the people will obey the law, and only the small minority need be forced to conform.

The survival of the idea for which this Nation stands is not inevitable. It may survive, if enough Americans care enough.

Free men may make the mistake of thinking that no effort is required of them to maintain the rule of law that supports our society. Nothing could be more dangerous to our future. Free men must be quick to understand the kinds of effort that are required to keep their society vital and strong.

The strengthening of a free society, the enrichment of the traditions on which freedom depends cannot be achieved by aimless or listless men. All our wisdom, all our talent and vitality, all our steadfastness will be needed, if we wish to attain these goals. A free society wants and needs the devotion of free, rational, responsible individuals.

The religious precept that you must lose yourself to find yourself is no less true at the secular level. No one who has observed the devoted scientist in his laboratory can doubt the spiritual rewards of such work. The same is true of anyone who is working toward goals that represent the highest values of his society.

We want meaning in our lives. When we raise our sights, strive for excellence and dedicate ourselves to the highest goals of our society, we are enrolling in an ancient and meaningful cause: the age-long struggle of man to realize the best that is in him. Man, reaching toward the most exalted goals he can conceive, man striving impatiently and restlessly for excellence has produced great religious insights, created great art, generated secrets which give meaning to the phrase "the dignity of man."

On the other hand, man without standards, man with eyes on the ground, has proven over and over in every society, at every period in history, that human beings can be lower than the beasts, sunk in ignorance, morally blind, living a life devoid of meaning.

The task we face of keeping our ideals alive is partly a question of leadership. If our citizens are to recapture a sense of mission with respect to the purposes we care the most about, our leaders must have the capacity and the vision to ask for it. It is hard to expect an upsurge of devotion to the common good to evoke it, or the moral depth to understand such devotion, or the stature to merit the response which follows. One of the great tasks of leadership is to help a society achieve the best that is in it.

But it takes more than leadership to preserve the ideals of a free society. The values we cherish will not survive without the constant attention of the ordinary citizens. Unlike the pyramids, the monuments of the spirit will not stand unattended. They must be nourished in each generation by the allegiance of believing men and women. The fact that millions have died violent deaths while defending individual freedom does not insure the survival of that principle, if we cease paying our tithes of devotion.

Every free man in his work and in his family, in his public behavior, and in the secret places of his heart, should see himself as a builder and maintainer of the ideals of his society. Individuals contribute to the greatness and strength of a free society, or they help it to die.

Those who are most devoted to a democratic society must be precisely the ones who insist that free men are capable of the highest standards of performance, that free society can be a great society in the richest sense of the word. The idea for which this Nation stands will not survive, if the highest goal free men can set themselves is an amiable mediocrity.

If we believe in a free society, we must be worthy of a free society. Any society will fall without the support of the rule of law. Discipline and obedience is as necessary in the social state as in the family unit of society. No community can long succeed without respect for law and order. No government can long endure without enforcement of the laws that control the affairs of its subjects. An ordered society is absolutely essential. The rule of law must prevail in order to avoid terror and anarchy.

I appeal to you as leaders of our Texarkana community to accept these attitudes and apply them in your relationship with your families and your social contacts each and every day of your lives. I urge you to respect the rule of law, the rights, freedom and liberty of your neighbors, and the dignity of man. When you have done this you not only will have become a greater American citizen, but you will have carried out the holy mission from on high which is the reflection of God's will and love in human affairs to the end that peace and order may be established around the world.

National Loop to Air Braves Situation

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee-Atlanta situation will be discussed at a special meeting of the National League late Monday afternoon, a day before the two major leagues hold a joint session.

Although Wisconsin Circuit Court Judge Elmer Roller ordered the Braves to return to Atlanta May 18 if the league had not made expansion plans for 1967, including Milwaukee, by May 18, there was no indication of any immediate expansion.

"Expansion will be discussed," said league president Warren Giles before leaving his Cincinnati home. "I do not anticipate any action will be taken at this meeting."

"We will hear the report of our counsel on the Wisconsin case. It may be necessary to have another meeting before May 16."

Giles said the league would consider the report of the players' association and other matters, such as a proposed trip to Japan by the Los Angeles Dodgers, which will come up for discussion at the joint meeting Tuesday morning, called by Commissioner William Eckert.

It had been reported that the state of Georgia is considering filing suit directly to the U.S. Supreme Court against the state of Wisconsin to expedite a final decision on the Braves.

The Wisconsin court ruled April 13 that the Braves and the National League had violated Wisconsin's antitrust laws and their refusal to issue a franchise to Milwaukee County was restraint of trade and commerce.

However, a Georgia court has issued a permanent injunction calling on the Braves and the league to fulfill a 25-year contract for use of the new stadium in Atlanta.

The entire matter almost certainly will wind up in the U.S. Supreme Court sooner or later.

Montreal Is Back in Role of Favorite

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — That 10-day rest the Montreal Canadiens had between the conclusion of their Stanley Cup semifinal series with Toronto and the start of the finals against Detroit might prove to be the deciding factor in this year's playoffs.

The Canadiens looked flat — and some observers felt the reason was the long layoff — in the first two games at Montreal, but outskated and outthrusted the Red Wings in Detroit and came back to even the best-of-seven series at two games each.

Ralph Backstrom's goal with less than seven minutes remaining carried the Canadiens to a 2-1 victory Sunday and back into the favorite's role.

The Red Wings played with substitute goalie Hank Bassen in the nets after Roger Crozier suffered a sprained left knee and twisted ankle early in the contest.

The Red Wings were not sure whether Crozier would be available for the fifth game in Montreal Tuesday night.

"We'll just have to wait and see how he feels Monday," Manager Coach Sid Abel said.

Bassen, who appeared in 11 regular season games and was playing in only his fifth playoff game, stopped almost everything the Canadiens shot at him and could not be faulted for the two goals.

The Canadiens' victory means the series will go at least six games. The sixth game will be played in Detroit Thursday.

A seventh and deciding game, if necessary, will be played in Montreal. The Canadiens have scheduled it for Saturday night but may move it to Sunday afternoon to take advantage of the television coverage again.

Morning Moisture
Wetness of grass in the early morning is caused by dew, which does not fall but collects when the grass cools off fast. During daytime, the heat causes moisture from the earth to evaporate into the air. At night, when the air close to the earth cools, this moisture condenses, that is, it becomes liquid again, forming dew.

Graustark Is Out, Ky. Derby Is Wide Open

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With Graustark sidelined by a broken bone, Saturday's running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby shaped up today as a wide-open scramble with at least four colts vying for the favorite's role.

There are about 20 3-year-olds either at Churchill Downs or en route who can be listed as possible starters in the 1 1/4-mile race. However, the list may be trimmed to 14 or even 12 by the weather, Tuesday's Derby Trial and owners' unwillingness to part with the $1,500 necessary to get a horse into the starting line-up.

Entries for the first of the Triple Crown series, which also includes the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, will be made Thursday morning. Post time Saturday is 5:45 p.m., EDT.

Graustark was taken out of the race Sunday by Trainer Lloyd Gentry when X-rays showed the son of Ribot had a fractured bone just above the hoof of his left foreleg.

Graustark's failure to make the Big One also did away with any possibility of a clash between the two most talked of horses of 1965.

Buckpasser, the other, is co-owned by John Bartlett and Robert Byfield of Chichis first seven year, but was beaten by Abe's Hope in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday.

The Derby filer Filberts lost no time going to work on the remainder of the field. They came up with Abe's Hope, owned by John Bartlett and Robert Byfield of Chicago, as the probably 5-2.

Abe's Hope has no trun a bad race this year. The Illinois-bred son of Better Bee had Buckpasser beaten in the Flamingo only to lose in the final stride. He finished first in the Florida Derby but was disqualified and placed fourth.

Bill Shoemaker, winner of three Derbies, will ride Abe's Hope — a factor that figures to draw financial support from the usual crowd of more than 100,000.

Michael Ford's Kauai King, rated by Gentry as good enough to beat Buckpasser, is the probable second choice at 3-1. Gentry trained the son of Native Dancer last year. He wound up his Derby prep with a victory in Bowie's Governor's Gold Cup.

Right behind Kauai King in the calculations come Reginald Webster's Amberoid, winner of the Wood Memorial, and Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Stupendous.

Stupendous gets into the Derby because of a second thought. Trainer Eddie Naylor announced nearly two weeks ago that the Wheatley Colt would not be a Derby starter. But Mrs. Phipps had a change of mind three days ago and the son of Bold Ruler arrived late Sunday afternoon as rain pelted the Downs for the 14th straight day.

The forecast, however, called for clearing skies by Tuesday and fair weather the remainder of the week.

William G. Helis Jr.'s Sky Guy, who has showed little except speed, was listed as a probable starter when Trainer Jimmy Combest asked for stall space. He is due from New York within a day or so.

Several hopefuls, headed by Exhibitionist, Advocate, Florida Derby winner Williamstown to get their final pre-Derby tests in the one-mile Derby Trial.

Patrick changed all that, running a 4:04.6 mile under terrible weather conditions Friday for a Villanova upset in the distance medley relay. The winning time was 9:46.4, one of two meet marks set in the oldest of all the college relays. Sam Bair Jr. of Kent State broke the other with an 8:49.2 two-mile.

Patrick staged another comeback — behind finish Saturday with a 1:53 flat half mile on Villanova's 7:39.3 two-mile relay. Again, the weather conditions were intolerable.

The two victories stamped the Wildcats as a major power again, since all four members of the two-mile team were sophomores, three of them doubling on the other Villanova winner.

At Des Moines, Matson took the discus in a mediocre 185-4 and the shot in a solid 65-3/4, one of his best of the year and a meet record.

Matson, the young giant who holds the world record at 70-7, has voiced his concern over his performance and condition several times this season, but gained confidence with his second straight double.

The outstanding athlete award, however, went to Van Nelson, an unheralded distance man from St. Cloud, Minn., State, who outlegged seasoned competition for a meet record in the three-mile Friday and another victory in the six-mile Saturday. The times were 13:29.2 and 28:48.6.

Jim Ryan, Kansas' teen-age mile sensation, was a mild disappointment, taking his event in 4:05.6.

Grelle turned on his familiar, devastating kick to beat seasoned George Young in 14:10.8 in the 5,000 meters, an unfamiliar distance for Grelle, who has run more sub-four miles than any other American.

In other highlights of the California meet, John Pennel and Sam Kirk each cleared 17 feet in the pole vault, Pennel winning on fewer misses, and St. John's Tommy Farrell ran a sparkling 1:47.9 half mile.

Sudden Sam Hurles Indians to 1-0 Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
They're calling him Sudden Sam McDowell, but Sensational Sam would seem to be more appropriate for a pitcher who has collected as many hits in one game as he's given up in two.

McDowell, Cleveland's ace left-hander, collected two hits Sunday and his second straight one-hitter, allowing only a bloop double by Don Buford in the second inning as he pitched the Indians to a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The feat of hurling successive one-hitters had been accomplished only three previous times in major league history, by Lon Warneke when he was with the Chicago Cubs, Mort Cooper when he was with the St. Louis Cardinals and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees.

McDowell also lived up to his Sudden label, applied because of his blazing speed, by striking out 10 and bringing his major league-leading total to 49. The undefeated southpaw also became the first American League pitcher to win four games and lowered his earned run average to a sparkling 1.54.

The victory was the 11th in 12 games this season for the Indians, who started off by winning their first 10 games. The 10-game winning streak was matched Sunday by the Baltimore Orioles, who lifted their record to 12-1 by defeating Detroit 4-1.

The other AL teams played doubleheaders and all split. Minnesota lost to Washington 5-3, then pulled out of its tailspin by winning 3-1. California whipped Boston 6-1 but the Red Sox cruised to a 9-1 second game victory. Kansas City blanked New York 1-0 before the Yankees drubbed the A's 10-4.

In the National League, San Francisco shut out St. Louis 2-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked Cincinnati 3-0, Pittsburgh thumped the New York Mets 8-0, Houston whipped Atlanta 7-1 and the Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 6-1.

Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for the Orioles in the fourth inning and Brooks Robinson stroked a two-run single in the fifth. That was enough as Steve Barber and Dick Hall kept eight Tiger hits well scattered.

Don Lock drove home three runs with a homer and a single for the Senators in the opener and they held on behind reliever Casey Cox despite homers by Earl Battey and Harmon Killebrew.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant won the nightcap for the Twins, who had lost seven of their previous eight games. Grant allowed eight hits but drove in two runs with a second-inning single.

Joe Adcock, Jim Fregosi and Jack Warner unloaded homers as the Angels whipped the Red Sox in the opener. But Jerry Stephenson handcuffed the Californians in the nightcap, becoming the first Boston pitcher this season to complete a game as he scattered nine hits.

The A's won their opener behind Rollie Sheldon's three-hitter. Ossie Chavez's double and a single by Ken Suarez produced the game's only run off Whitey Ford in the sixth inning.

The nightcap was another story as the Yankees overcame a 4-2 deficit with a six-run sixth inning explosion triggered by Roy White's homer. Lou Clinton's two-run single, a two-run double by Jake Gibbs and a run-scoring single by Bobby Richardson wrapped it up.

A Former NCS Coach Dies at 65

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The basketball world today mourned Everett Case, former North Carolina State coach.

Case, 65, called the Old Gray Fox, died in a Raleigh hospital Saturday night of cardio-vascular collapse resulting from massive intestinal bleeding which hospitalized him Thursday.

Funeral services were to be held today in the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, with burial in Raleigh Memorial Park.

Case, an Indiana native, came to N.C. State in 1946 shortly after he got out of the Navy after World War II. State had just suffered three losing seasons.

Case changed that. His teams in 19 seasons compiled a record of 379 wins and 134 losses and won 10 championships, in the old Southern Conference and in the present Atlantic Coast Conference. He founded the Dixie Classic Tournament and won it seven of 12 times.

Ladd, Faison Are Now Free Agents

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Writer
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, two of the American Football League's top defensive players, became free agents Sunday and the stalemate continued over who will have their 1966 services.

Ladd and Faison played out their options with the San Diego Chargers, refusing 1965 contracts because they wanted more money; wanted a share in the big bonuses given rookies.

The 6 foot 9, 315-pound Ladd and 6-5, 270-pound Faison were all-AFL at tackle and end for the Chargers last year. Signed in 1961, they were half of a defensive elite that helped stabilize AFL records in nearly all defensive aspects of the game in 1965.

San Diego General Manager Coach Sid Gillman's only comment Sunday was that he had none.

But a Charger spokesman said there's more than money behind Gillman's problem.

"Sid feels everybody in football is looking down his neck. He believes that if Ladd and Faison are given big bonuses to sign, other players will follow suit and it will hurt the game," the spokesman said.

By playing out their options and taking automatic 10 per cent salary cuts during the 1965 season, Ladd and Faison are at liberty to:

— Sign with the Chargers as free agents.

— Sign with another A F L team.

— Sign with a National Football League club.

— Sign with a Canadian League team.

— Sign with a Continental League team.

In the NFL, Chicago has rights to Ladd, and Detroit can bargain with Faison because they originally drafted them.

Neither team has shown much interest, and the reason is obvious to all of football: An inter-league fuss of staggering proportions. Veteran players in both leagues would begin playing out options for more money in the other league.

Gillman thought this problem was solved when it was announced that Ladd and Faison were traded to the AFL Houston Oilers. But Joe Foss, then AFL commissioner, voided the deal. Foss accused Houston of tampering.

SWC, Big 8 May Form Bowl Pact

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A move is afoot to match the champions of the Southwest and Big Eight football conferences in the annual Cotton Bowl game each year, the Dallas Times Herald reported Sunday.

The Herald said that SWC athletic directors and coaches will discuss this week a possible agreement to fill the bowl berths.

The newspaper said the recommendation would go before governing body of the conference, the faculty committee, if the idea is approved at the spring meeting at Austin this week.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said he would go along with whatever everyone else wants. Most of the coaches contacted by the newspaper indicated interest in such a move.

But Big Eight Commissioner Wayne Duke said, "This is completely new to me." He said no conference had made formal presentation before Big Eight officials.

Field Scovell, chairman of the Cotton Bowl selection committee, and SWC public relations director Wilbur Evans are scheduled to attend the Big Eight meeting May 12.

"This doesn't indicate a thing," said Scovell. "We've had this visit set up a long time. We've always had good relations with those people and want to keep it that way."

The Los Angeles Dodgers bunched three of their four hits for three runs in the third inning. John Roseboro's leadoff double was one of the hits while a run-scoring bunt single by pitcher Don Sutton and another bunt single by Maury Wills were the others.

The Cubs, who made four errors themselves, took advantage of six Phillie errors for their victory. Four of their runs were unearned as a result of two errors by Tony Taylor and one each by Clay Dalrymple, Larry Jackson, John Briggs and Tony Gonzalez.

Because she feared becoming ill traveling by plane, Mrs. Mary Matz, with her dog Tiny Mouse, decided to take a cab for her journey. The meter read $1,250 for the trip from Toledo, Ohio, to Richmond, Calif.

New Pro Grid
Chief to Be Tough One

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Davis is going to be a routin', tootin' gun fighter as commissioner of the American Football League. He wants no part of any common draft or any title game with the National Football League.

"Last year I acted as a liaison man for two months between some good friends in the other league and our league on the possibility of a merger," said Davis. "I thought it was very close but their demands were just ridiculous. As a coach I was against it but I punched hard."

Davis, making his first appearance in New York since he took over from Joe Foss, who resigned two weeks ago, said the office would operate differently from now on.

"We have acted a little bit independently, like little outposts," Davis said. "I want to bring it together with one common chief and goal. It will take two or three months to organize. Then maybe we'll drop a bomb and get everybody excited."

Mays Injured, Record Still Eludes Him

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a weak week for Willie. While everyone waited for him to hit his 512th home run, Willie Mays was having trouble hitting anything.

Mays added to his 50th anniversary problems Sunday by suffering a bruised left knee in San Francisco's 2-0 victory over St. Louis.

The injury, suffered in a first base collision with the Cardinals' George Kernek, forced Mays from the game in the fourth inning, marking the third time in the past week that he left a game before it was over.

A cold and an upset stomach sent Mays home early last Tuesday and Wednesday and kept him out of the line-up altogether Thursday. Contributing to his ills was a bruised right hand which hampered his swing and caused him to throw his bat a couple of times.

The result has been a drastic reduction in hitting output. When he hit his 511th homer and tied Mel Ott's National League career record last Sunday, it gave Mays six homers in the Giants' first 12 games.

But six games later Mays not only failed to break the record, he also has seen his batting average drop 62 points from .348 to .286.

In other National League games Pittsburgh walloped New York 8-0, Los Angeles downed Cincinnati 3-0, Houston whipped Atlanta 7-1 and Chicago defeated Philadelphia 6-1.

Alabama Eyed in Elections in 6 States

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Writer

The 1966 elections drama begins Tuesday with primaries in six states, and the opening scene is dominated by a figure who isn't officially in the cast — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Wallace is barred from running for re-election but his wife, Lurleen, is seeking to turn aside anyone else at the statehouse door. She is one of 10 candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In addition to Alabama, states with primaries Tuesday are Florida, Indiana, New Mexico, Ohio and Oklahoma.

Governorships are up in all the states except Indiana. Two of the six — Alabama and Oklahoma — have contests over nominations for the Senate.

All the states are making nominations for congressional seats.

But outside of Alabama, there appears little possibility of any drama of national significance.

In Ohio Robert Taft Jr., son of the late former Republican Senate leader and grandson of President William Howard Taft, is trying for a political comeback by seeking a GOP nomination for Congress.

He has opposition in the primary from William E. Flax, a Cincinnati attorney and political novice. But political analysts expect Taft will have no difficulty in defeating Flax.

Taft, 49, served one term in Congress but was defeated two years ago when he tried to oust Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young from the Senate. The House seat that Taft would like to have back now is held by Democrat John J. Gilligan who has no primary opposition.

Democratic Gov. Haydon Burns of Florida has primary opposition from two men he defeated two years ago — Mayor Robert King High of Miami and Scott Kelly, a former state senator from Lakeland. A fourth candidate, Sam Foor, publishes a political news letter.

Burns is the favorite, but a hard struggle may force a runoff primary May 24. High was runner-up to Burns two years ago.

Another Big Battle Shapes in Congress

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another round in the spending battle between President Johnson and the big Democratic majority in Congress takes place in the House this week. This time the skirmish centers on education and health appropriations.

A week after it defied the President by restoring some $100 million for school lunch and milk programs, the House is expected to support the action of its Appropriations Committee in putting back an extra $232.8 million for impacted school districts.

The increase in funds for areas with substantial numbers of federal workers is part of a $489 million Johnson asked for the million increase over the departments of Health, Education and Welfare. Other increases are for vocational education and health institutes. A vote on the $10,555,342,500 money bill is set for Wednesday.

A majority of Democrats on the Appropriations Committee supported the extra funds which Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., called "an invitation to a tax increase."

Obscenity Conviction Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its March 21 decision affirming conviction of publisher Ralph Ginzburg for obscenity.

Ginzburg was convicted in federal court in Philadelphia of violating federal obscenity law, sentenced to five years' imprisonment, and fined $28,000.

Publisher of Eros magazine, Ginzburg said neither a nine-year-old obscenity standard set by the Supreme Court nor the court's later rulings gave him warning that the manner in which a publication is advertised could establish the material as being obscene.

Justice William J. Brennan, author of the court's majority opinion, said "Eros was created, represented and sold solely as a claimed instrument of the sexual stimulation it would bring."

The court's vote was 5 to 4.

Another part of Johnson's order provides that certain draft age guardsmen and reservists who fail to keep up their obligated drills may be referred to Selective Service for two years of active duty.

The order specified that three unexcused absences in any year "are considered excessive."

The new penalties are in addition to an existing requirement that any guardsman or reservist failing a drilling obligation may be called to active duty for 45 days of training.

Most National Guardsmen and Reservists in the ready reserve are required to drill with their units 48 times a year. Men serving in the highest-priority units must attend 72 drills a year.

Army to Get Tougher on Guard Drills

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is getting tougher with Reservists and National Guardsmen who dodge drills with their units, it was learned today.

Gen. Harold R. Johnson, Army chief of staff, recently ordered demotion of any Reserve or National Guardsman ducking too many drills. The demotion would be for inefficiency.

Opening lead—A 8

"Greed is a terrible thing," muttered South as he looked over dummy. "Why couldn't I have settled for a nice, comfortable small slam, game and rubber?"

He counted 12 easy tricks but where was his 13th coming from? There was one easy way to make his try. He could play a low spade from dummy and if West had led from the queen he would have his grand slam. South gazed fixedly at West and decided that West just wouldn't lead from a queen against a grand slam contract.

Was a squeeze possible? The more expert of you readers have already seen that it was not only possible but that it was sure to work against the actual East-West holdings. That is, the right squeeze is sure to work. There are all sorts of squeezes for declarer to try.

Correct technique is for South to assume that East has the queen of spades and to start play by taking the ace of spades and running off four trump tricks. Dummy will discard the deuce of spades and the chances are that West will jettison two diamonds and East a couple of spades. South's next play should be to lead out dummy's king of spades and note that both opponents follow. By this time South can suspect the actual distribution.

He leads three rounds of hearts, trumping the third one with his next to last trump.

Then he leads out his last trump. West will have to throw another diamond in order to keep the high heart. Dummy's last heart will be thrown and East will also have to chuck a diamond to hold the spade queen. The diamonds will all be good!

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 1 Pass
You, South, hold:
AK108 576 4324 332
What do you do?
A—Bid two spades. You should raise your partner's overcalls just as you would his opening bid.
